Children’s Network of Solano County Honors County Superintendent of Schools Lisette Estrella-Henderson at the 2018 Champions for Children Awards Gala

Solano County Superintendent of Schools Lisette Estrella Henderson received the Champion for Children Award during the Children’s Network of Solano County Gala event; Friday, April 27, at the Dan Foley Cultural Center in Vallejo, California. “I am extremely humbled to receive this award and can’t imagine being in any other profession– educating and serving the students and families of Solano County,” says Estrella-Henderson.

The Gala celebrated individuals, local business leaders, nonprofit agencies, and public officials who have made a significant difference in the lives of children and families in Solano County. Special guests and speakers included Solano County Supervisor Erin Hannigan, Vallejo Mayor Bob Sampayan, and Vallejo School Superintendent Dr. Adam Clark. Other honorees included District Attorney Krishna Abrams, Children’s Network founders Deb and Paul McGuire, Kaiser Permanente, and North Bay Healthcare.

The Children’s Network of Solano County works year-round to improve the lives of children and families by coordinating and providing services that strengthen and support families now and in the future. Programs include the Solano Father’s Network, Children’s Alliance, Child Abuse Prevention Council, Family Resource Centers, and Child Care Planning Council to name a few.
